Written Guarantee of Accuracy

We endeavor to complete each and every tax filing for our clients with the highest degree of accuracy possible. While misunderstandings and human errors may occur, we want to correct them as soon as possible.

We will prepare any amended forms necessary, at no charge, when an error is made by us based on the information given to us by the client.

We will not refund the original tax preparation fees paid because we actually did perform the work.

In the event that any client supplied erroneous, incomplete, or untrue financial information to us, which we then used to prepare a tax filing for that client, we will assist that client in correcting his or her original filing, at our normal hourly rate. The client by his or her signature below agrees to inform us as soon as any such insufficiency is discovered.

In agreement herewith, the undersigned client(s) states that he or she has provided ALL necessary and correct information to complete the tax return, as of the date indicated below. The client(s) further acknowledges receipt of a copy of this agreement and that he or she will comply with its terms.
